

Committee Member Expectations – Council on Teaching

It is crucial that all faculty and students who apply for membership on this committee are informed of its importance and role in the teaching mission of the University of Iowa.

Although the workload does vary during the academic year, all members of the committee are expected to actively participate in committee discussions, serve on subcommittees and complete their assigned reviews for teaching awards in a timely and professional manner. Review of teaching award nominations is very time consuming and prospective committee members must understand this important responsibility. Thus it is crucial to select new members who clearly have indicated that they are dedicated and willing to make meaningful contributions.

Members will evaluate and submit ratings for applications for nominations for President and Provost Teaching Awards and Outstanding Teaching Assistant Awards.
